

Child Support Guidelines Advisory Council - 2017

OVERVIEW

Every four years, the Ohio Department of Job and Family Services is required by law to review the state's basic child support guidelines to determine if child support orders issued in accordance with the guidelines adequately provide for the needs of children. A child support guidelines advisory council was formed to help prepare a report of recommendations for the General Assembly. The advisory council membership is comprised of state and county child support professionals, judges, magistrates, legislators, attorneys, and parent advocacy groups.
