This document provides an overview of the programs affected by ARRA dollars.

On February 17, 2009, President Obama signed the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) to jumpstart the economy, create and save millions of jobs, provide assistance to workers hurt by the economic downturn, and protect vital services for Americans. The ARRA provides significant help for Ohio and Ohioans: everything from additional benefits for unemployed workers to increased funds for cash and food assistance, and significant dollars for a variety of employment and training programs.

93.713 Child Care Development Fund - As of June 30, 2010

ARRA funding for the Child Care Development Block Grant will be spent over SFY10 and SFY11. A large portion of the discretionary funds will be used in SFY 10 to continue to provide subsidized child care for eligible families. Funds for Quality Expansion will be used to provide programs that achieve a 2 or 3-star rating in Ohio's Quality Rating and Improvement System (Step Up To Quality) an additional per child rate for children receiving child care subsidies. ARRA targeted funds for infants and toddlers will be used to support the network of infant and toddler specialists, whose primary role is to improve the quality of infant and toddler care in early care and education settings through the delivery of professional development and technical assistance, as well as the development of new parent consumer education materials. The additional discretionary funds resulted in 59,624 children receiving child care assistance.

93.563 Child Support Incentives - As of June 30, 2010

Under a provision of the Recovery Act, the federal government will temporarily allow state child support programs to use their federal incentive dollars as a match to draw down additional federal reimbursement funds. During the two years that this ARRA provision is in effect, it is expected that Ohio will earn approximately $55 million in federal child support incentive money. As a result of this provision, when incentive funds are re-invested in the child support program, the federal stimulus share will be used to fund 66% of the total associated expenditure ($106 million), thereby increasing the CSEA's purchasing power from $55 million to $161 million.

93.658 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Foster Care (FC) Maintenance* - As of June 30, 2010

Foster or substitute care for children is one of the major program components of Ohio's child welfare system and is provided through public and private agencies. The program's main purpose is to reunify children with their families and/or find other permanent living arrangements when children can not safely return home.

FC Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $17,007,749

93.659 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Adoption Assistance (AA)* - As of June 30, 2010

The Title IV-E Subsidy Program provides federal financial support for adopted children who are described as having special needs. In addition to a monthly monetary payment, children who are Title IV-E eligible are entitled to other state assistance and services under the federal Title XX program and Medicaid coverage.

AA Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $8,696,174

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.

10.561 Food Assistance Administration - As of June 30, 2010

ARRA allows the USDA Food and Nutrition Service to allocate Food Assistance funds to states for Food Assistance Administration. Seventy-five percent of this allocation is based on participation in the program. Twenty-five percent is based on the increase in participation. For SFYs 2009 and 2010, Ohio county departments of job and family services received a total of $9,245,239 in ARRA Food Assistance Administration funds.

10.551 Food Assistance - SSI Cash-out

The Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) allocated additional funds to states with Supplemental Security Income (SSI)/Elderly Cash-out projects related to the Food Assistance Program. Ohio is one of five states with a Cash-out project; it operates in Cuyahoga County. The total combined amount Ohio was awarded for FFY 2009 and FFY 2010 was $9,314,933. These funds are being used to provide an additional supplement in SSI Cash-out benefits to the elderly food assistance recipients in Cuyahoga County.

Benefit Increase for Food Assistance Recipients - As of June 30, 2010

The Recovery Act increases benefits for Food Assistance recipients during FFY 2009 and FFY 2010. Those receiving Food Assistance have automatically received this increase since April 1, 2009; they do not need to take any action. In Ohio, these additional funds are added to recipients' Ohio Direction Cards. Studies have shown that for every $5 spent in Food Assistance benefits, it contributes to $9.20 in local and state economies. The year-to-date benefit breakdown is shown on the right:

93.778 Medicaid - As of June 30, 2010

Medicaid is the federally funded, state-administered program that reimburses providers such as doctors, dentists, optometrists, home health care aides and health-care facilities for providing medically necessary health care services to eligible low-income individuals. Medicaid also provides assistance with durable medical equipment such as wheelchairs and oxygen. The Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (FMAP) is the federal share of the state's Medicaid expenditures.

The Recovery Act increases the FMAP by using a formula that takes into account states' unemployment rates. This temporary program is known as eFMAP, for Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage. It will bring approximately $3.1 billion to Ohio through calendar year 2010.

93.714 TANF - Temporary Assistance For Needy Families - As of June 30, 2010

Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF): federal block grant to states for cash assistance and other programs to increase self-sufficiency, reduce out of wedlock pregnancies, and support two-parent families. HR 1 established the Emergency Fund for state TANF programs. States are eligible for 80% reimbursement for FFY 2009 and 2010 expenditures in one of three TANF categories - cash assistance, short term nonrecurring expenses, or subsidized employment, that exceed expenditures in either of the base years FFY 2007 or FFY 2008. Ohio has thus far qualified for reimbursement for excess expenditures in the cash assistance category for FFY 2009 and the first two quarters of FFY 2010 as compared to the lowest of the two base years, FFY 2007. Ohio has also qualified for additional funds for excess FFY2009 and FFY 2010 subsidized employment expenditures for subsidized employment programs that county department of job and family services had established through their county Prevention, Retention and Contingency plans.

17.207 Workforce - Employment and Re-Employment Services - As of June 30, 2010

Since February 17, 2009, Ohio provided staff-assisted employment services to 1,129,642 job seekers, 10,053 of whom were veterans. The number of job seekers who received reemployment services assessments during this time was 7,845. Of those, 605 were veterans.

93.563 Child Support Incentives - As of June 30, 2010

Under a provision of the Recovery Act, the federal government will temporarily allow state child support programs to use their federal incentive dollars as a match to draw down additional federal reimbursement funds. During the two years that this ARRA provision is in effect, it is expected that Ohio will earn approximately $55 million in federal child support incentive money. As a result of this provision, when incentive funds are re-invested in the child support program, the federal stimulus share will be used to fund 66% of the total associated expenditure ($106 million), thereby increasing the CSEA purchase power from $55 million to $161 million.

93.658 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Foster Care Maintenance* - As of June 30, 2010

Foster or substitute care for children is one of the major program components of Ohio's child welfare system and is provided through public and private agencies. The program's main purpose is to reunify children with their families and/or find other permanent living arrangements when children can not safely return home.

93.659 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Adoption Assistance* - As of June 30, 2010

The Title IV-E Subsidy Program provides federal financial support for adopted children who are described as having special needs. In addition to a monthly monetary payment, children who are Title IV-E eligible are entitled to other state assistance and services under the federal Title XX program and Medicaid coverage.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $74,938

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.

Under a provision of the Recovery Act, the federal government will temporarily allow state child support programs to use their federal incentive dollars as a match to draw down additional federal reimbursement funds. During the two years that this ARRA provision is in effect, it is expected that Ohio will earn approximately $55 million in federal child support incentive money. As a result of this provision, when incentive funds are re-invested in the child support program, the federal stimulus share will be used to fund 66% of the total associated expenditure ($106 million), thereby increasing the CSEA purchase power from $55 million to $161 million.

93.658 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Foster Care Maintenance* - As of June 30, 2010

Foster or substitute care for children is one of the major program components of Ohio's child welfare system and is provided through public and private agencies. The program's main purpose is to reunify children with their families and/or find other permanent living arrangements when children can not safely return home.

93.659 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Adoption Assistance* - As of June 30, 2010

The Title IV-E Subsidy Program provides federal financial support for adopted children who are described as having special needs. In addition to a monthly monetary payment, children who are Title IV-E eligible are entitled to other state assistance and services under the federal Title XX program and Medicaid coverage.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $1,621

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.

The Title IV-E Subsidy Program provides federal financial support for adopted children who are described as having special needs. In addition to a monthly monetary payment, children who are Title IV-E eligible are entitled to other state assistance and services under the federal Title XX program and Medicaid coverage.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $12,277

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.

93.563 Child Support Incentives - As of June 30, 2010

Under a provision of the Recovery Act, the federal government will temporarily allow state child support programs to use their federal incentive dollars as a match to draw down additional federal reimbursement funds. During the two years that this ARRA provision is in effect, it is expected that Ohio will earn approximately $55 million in federal child support incentive money. As a result of this provision, when incentive funds are re-invested in the child support program, the federal stimulus share will be used to fund 66% of the total associated expenditure ($106 million), thereby increasing the CSEA purchase power from $55 million to $161 million.

93.658 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Foster Care Maintenance* - As of June 30, 2010

Foster or substitute care for children is one of the major program components of Ohio's child welfare system and is provided through public and private agencies. The program's main purpose is to reunify children with their families and/or find other permanent living arrangements when children can not safely return home.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $217,528

93.659 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Adoption Assistance* - As of June 30, 2010

The Title IV-E Subsidy Program provides federal financial support for adopted children who are described as having special needs. In addition to a monthly monetary payment, children who are Title IV-E eligible are entitled to other state assistance and services under the federal Title XX program and Medicaid coverage.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $44,506

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.

93.563 Child Support Incentives - As of June 30, 2010

Under a provision of the Recovery Act, the federal government will temporarily allow state child support programs to use their federal incentive dollars as a match to draw down additional federal reimbursement funds. During the two years that this ARRA provision is in effect, it is expected that Ohio will earn approximately $55 million in federal child support incentive money. As a result of this provision, when incentive funds are re-invested in the child support program, the federal stimulus share will be used to fund 66% of the total associated expenditure ($106 million), thereby increasing the CSEA purchase power from $55 million to $161 million.

93.658 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Foster Care Maintenance* - As of June 30, 2010

Foster or substitute care for children is one of the major program components of Ohio's child welfare system and is provided through public and private agencies. The program's main purpose is to reunify children with their families and/or find other permanent living arrangements when children can not safely return home.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $8,970

93.659 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Adoption Assistance* - As of June 30, 2010

The Title IV-E Subsidy Program provides federal financial support for adopted children who are described as having special needs. In addition to a monthly monetary payment, children who are Title IV-E eligible are entitled to other state assistance and services under the federal Title XX program and Medicaid coverage.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $6,262

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.

10.561 Food Assistance Administration - As of June 30, 2010

ARRA allows the USDA Food and Nutrition Service to allocate Food Assistance funds to states for Food Assistance Administration. For SFYs 2009 and 2010, Ohio county departments of job and family services received a total of $9,245,239 in ARRA Food Assistance Administration funds. 93.563 Child Support Incentives - As of June 30, 2010

Under a provision of the Recovery Act, the federal government will temporarily allow state child support programs to use their federal incentive dollars as a match to draw down additional federal reimbursement funds. During the two years that this ARRA provision is in effect, it is expected that Ohio will earn approximately $55 million in federal child support incentive money. As a result of this provision, when incentive funds are re-invested in the child support program, the federal stimulus share will be used to fund 66% of the total associated expenditure ($106 million), thereby increasing the CSEA purchase power from $55 million to $161 million.

93.658 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Foster Care Maintenance* - As of June 30, 2010

Foster or substitute care for children is one of the major program components of Ohio's child welfare system and is provided through public and private agencies. The program's main purpose is to reunify children with their families and/or find other permanent living arrangements when children can not safely return home.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $76,937

93.659 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Adoption Assistance* - As of June 30, 2010

The Title IV-E Subsidy Program provides federal financial support for adopted children who are described as having special needs. In addition to a monthly monetary payment, children who are Title IV-E eligible are entitled to other state assistance and services under the federal Title XX program and Medicaid coverage.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $32,503

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.

10.561 Food Assistance Administration - As of June 30, 2010

ARRA allows the USDA Food and Nutrition Service to allocate Food Assistance funds to states for Food Assistance Administration. Seventy-five percent of this allocation is based on participation in the program. Twenty-five percent is based on the increase in participation. For SFYs 2009 and 2010, Ohio county departments of job and family services received a total of $9,245,239 in ARRA Food Assistance Administration funds. Under a provision of the Recovery Act, the federal government will temporarily allow state child support programs to use their federal incentive dollars as a match to draw down additional federal reimbursement funds. During the two years that this ARRA provision is in effect, it is expected that Ohio will earn approximately $55 million in federal child support incentive money. As a result of this provision, when incentive funds are re-invested in the child support program, the federal stimulus share will be used to fund 66% of the total associated expenditure ($106 million), thereby increasing the CSEA purchase power from $55 million to $161 million.

Foster or substitute care for children is one of the major program components of Ohio's child welfare system and is provided through public and private agencies. The program's main purpose is to reunify children with their families and/or find other permanent living arrangements when children can not safely return home.

93.659 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Adoption Assistance* - As of June 30, 2010

The Title IV-E Subsidy Program provides federal financial support for adopted children who are described as having special needs. In addition to a monthly monetary payment, children who are Title IV-E eligible are entitled to other state assistance and services under the federal Title XX program and Medicaid coverage.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $170,536

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.

93.658 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Foster Care Maintenance* - As of June 30, 2010

Foster or substitute care for children is one of the major program components of Ohio's child welfare system and is provided through public and private agencies. The program's main purpose is to reunify children with their families and/or find other permanent living arrangements when children can not safely return home.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $8,156

93.659 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Adoption Assistance* - As of June 30, 2010

The Title IV-E Subsidy Program provides federal financial support for adopted children who are described as having special needs. In addition to a monthly monetary payment, children who are Title IV-E eligible are entitled to other state assistance and services under the federal Title XX program and Medicaid coverage.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $3,283

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.

Under a provision of the Recovery Act, the federal government will temporarily allow state child support programs to use their federal incentive dollars as a match to draw down additional federal reimbursement funds. During the two years that this ARRA provision is in effect, it is expected that Ohio will earn approximately $55 million in federal child support incentive money. As a result of this provision, when incentive funds are re-invested in the child support program, the federal stimulus share will be used to fund 66% of the total associated expenditure ($106 million), thereby increasing the CSEA purchase power from $55 million to $161 million.

In addition to a monthly monetary payment, children who are Title IV-E eligible are entitled to other state assistance and services under the federal Title XX program and Medicaid coverage.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $5,960

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.

93.563 Child Support Incentives - As of June 30, 2010

Under a provision of the Recovery Act, the federal government will temporarily allow state child support programs to use their federal incentive dollars as a match to draw down additional federal reimbursement funds. During the two years that this ARRA provision is in effect, it is expected that Ohio will earn approximately $55 million in federal child support incentive money. As a result of this provision, when incentive funds are re-invested in the child support program, the federal stimulus share will be used to fund 66% of the total associated expenditure ($106 million), thereby increasing the CSEA purchase power from $55 million to $161 million.

93.658 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Foster Care Maintenance* - As of June 30, 2010

Foster or substitute care for children is one of the major program components of Ohio's child welfare system and is provided through public and private agencies. The program's main purpose is to reunify children with their families and/or find other permanent living arrangements when children can not safely return home.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $17,986

93.659 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Adoption Assistance* - As of June 30, 2010

The Title IV-E Subsidy Program provides federal financial support for adopted children who are described as having special needs. In addition to a monthly monetary payment, children who are Title IV-E eligible are entitled to other state assistance and services under the federal Title XX program and Medicaid coverage.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $5,742

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.

93.563 Child Support Incentives - As of June 30, 2010

Under a provision of the Recovery Act, the federal government will temporarily allow state child support programs to use their federal incentive dollars as a match to draw down additional federal reimbursement funds. During the two years that this ARRA provision is in effect, it is expected that Ohio will earn approximately $55 million in federal child support incentive money. As a result of this provision, when incentive funds are re-invested in the child support program, the federal stimulus share will be used to fund 66% of the total associated expenditure ($106 million), thereby increasing the CSEA purchase power from $55 million to $161 million.

93.658 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Foster Care Maintenance* - As of June 30, 2010

Foster or substitute care for children is one of the major program components of Ohio's child welfare system and is provided through public and private agencies. The program's main purpose is to reunify children with their families and/or find other permanent living arrangements when children can not safely return home.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $21,443

93.659 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Adoption Assistance* - As of June 30, 2010

The Title IV-E Subsidy Program provides federal financial support for adopted children who are described as having special needs. In addition to a monthly monetary payment, children who are Title IV-E eligible are entitled to other state assistance and services under the federal Title XX program and Medicaid coverage.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $10,919

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.

93.563 Child Support Incentives - As of June 30, 2010

Under a provision of the Recovery Act, the federal government will temporarily allow state child support programs to use their federal incentive dollars as a match to draw down additional federal reimbursement funds. During the two years that this ARRA provision is in effect, it is expected that Ohio will earn approximately $55 million in federal child support incentive money. As a result of this provision, when incentive funds are re-invested in the child support program, the federal stimulus share will be used to fund 66% of the total associated expenditure ($106 million), thereby increasing the CSEA purchase power from $55 million to $161 million.

93.658 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Foster Care Maintenance* - As of June 30, 2010

Foster or substitute care for children is one of the major program components of Ohio's child welfare system and is provided through public and private agencies. The program's main purpose is to reunify children with their families and/or find other permanent living arrangements when children can not safely return home.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $218,034

93.659 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Adoption Assistance* - As of June 30, 2010

The Title IV-E Subsidy Program provides federal financial support for adopted children who are described as having special needs. In addition to a monthly monetary payment, children who are Title IV-E eligible are entitled to other state assistance and services under the federal Title XX program and Medicaid coverage.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $89,592

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.

93.563 Child Support Incentives - As of June 30, 2010

Under a provision of the Recovery Act, the federal government will temporarily allow state child support programs to use their federal incentive dollars as a match to draw down additional federal reimbursement funds. During the two years that this ARRA provision is in effect, it is expected that Ohio will earn approximately $55 million in federal child support incentive money. As a result of this provision, when incentive funds are re-invested in the child support program, the federal stimulus share will be used to fund 66% of the total associated expenditure ($106 million), thereby increasing the CSEA purchase power from $55 million to $161 million.

93.658 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Foster Care Maintenance* - As of June 30, 2010

Foster or substitute care for children is one of the major program components of Ohio's child welfare system and is provided through public and private agencies. The program's main purpose is to reunify children with their families and/or find other permanent living arrangements when children can not safely return home.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $12,449

93.659 Child Welfare - Title IV-E Adoption Assistance* - As of June 30, 2010

The Title IV-E Subsidy Program provides federal financial support for adopted children who are described as having special needs. In addition to a monthly monetary payment, children who are Title IV-E eligible are entitled to other state assistance and services under the federal Title XX program and Medicaid coverage.

Total Enhanced FMAP Disbursed: $7,614

*Title IV-E Enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (EFMAP) funding is designed to offset a portion of county matching funds that are used in conjunction with state and federal funds to pay for Adoption Assistance and Foster Care Maintenance. The federal reimbursement rate increases by 6.2% above Ohio's base FMAP rate for the time period beginning October 1, 2008 through December 31, 2010. County funds may then be used to further promote reunification, prevent removal and supplement services. There is an indirect benefit to the program recipients because it offsets the amount of money counties use to assist qualified adoptive families and reimburse service providers. The money that is offset can be used to provide additional services to children in need.
