How Does Your Child Spend the Day?
There are 1,892 days from birth until school starts. Step Up To Quality programs know every day matters.

What Kinds of Programs Are Star Rated?
Most early learning and development programs can be Star Rated including:
- Family child care
- Full day, part day, part year
- Head Start
- Montessori
- Parent co-ops
- Preschool
- Preschool Special Education
- Public school preschool
- Reggio
- Faith-based centers

Step Up To Quality Teachers Are Highly Trained
Just like other professions, teachers in Star Rated programs are required to keep up-to-date on the latest knowledge, research and techniques to support your child’s development and learning. These dedicated teachers:
- Complete at least 20 hours of specialized training every two years.
- Plan learning activities that meet your child’s individual needs using the Ohio Early Learning and Development Standards.
- Build relationships with families and communities which support your child’s progress and well-being.

Research Shows That Quality Matters
Research confirms that when a program takes steps to increase quality, the children they teach are better prepared for the future. Children display more confidence, a curiosity about the world around them and are eager to learn. These are important skills for success in school and in life.
