Child Care Report

July 1, 2010 through December 31, 2010

Child Care Report

The report is itemized by child's age, family income, provider type and child care program payment source.

The report summarizes the number of children receiving publicly funded child care services, the total cost to the state, the total family fee, and the total cost of child care for the six-month period of July 1, 2010 through December 31, 2010. The total cost to the state includes both federal and state dollars.

The Child Care Age Level report lists the number of children served in each age group.

The Child Care Income Level report lists the most recent income level that is found in the system for the payment approval month. If a family changes eligibility during the period, payments could be included for more than one service month, from more than one payment source, or more than one income level.

Ohio has eight different types of providers. These types are:

- "Type A" is a home provider who can care for more than six children, has an assistant, and is licensed by the state.
- "Type B" is a home provider who can care for up to six children, has no assistant, and is certified by the county.
- "Type C" is a center
- "Type D" is a day camp provider
- "Type H" is a Head Start provider
- "Type I" is an In-Home Aid provider
- "Type L" is a limited provider who is a relative caregiver and is certified by the county
- "Type S" is a school-affiliated provider.
