

Hi, I'm Doug Lumpkin Director of the Ohio Department of Job and Family Services. Being a parent requires a lot of love and commitment. However at times you may find that you need additional support in meeting your goal of being the best parent you can possibly be. There are many parental support services within your community that can help you in achieving your goal. To find out more about the support programs and events within your neighborhood, please visit the Ohio Children's Trust Fund at jfs.ohio.gov.
